07/26/2016	9:00PM	John Rich:	Association: Highgrove At Anderson Creek HOA Name: John Rich Address: 35 Carlisle Place Spring Lake, NC 28390 Email: jrich_1964@yahoo.com Phone: 910-644-6291 Role: Homeowner Subject: Back Yard Haulted Work in Progress Message: HOA, I wasn't aware that when I got my shed there had to be a certain type. When I first moved here in April 2009, I was told the HOA was for the Highgrove At Anderson Creek Neighborhood Sign, Landscape and "Duck Pond". I had no idea all these other things were included in the HOA. So with this being said. I need to know what can I do to be within compliance? My shed is almost paid for and I am stuck with what to do now. So I am writing to explain to you if I have a option to paint my Tin Red Roof Shed to accomodate the look of my home. The pitch of the roof is like a Barn and the siding is not Vinyl Siding it's wood. I am willing to paint the shed roof the color of my shingles and the outer walls and doors white to match my house. Would this work or I have to get rid of my shed. My shed is located between 2 Young growing Apple trees which in 3-5 years you will not be able to see from the road. Also, I have already extended my Patio from a 12X12 patio to a 28X16 which I have a Cinder Block Bar on and Jacuzzi on. I have a future plan to cover the patio but all work has haulted because I didn't know I had to have permission to add anything to my home. Next March I had plans to put in a In-Ground Swimming Pool. So, as of now my back yard work has haulted. Respectfully, Mr. John R Rich 35 Carlisle Pl Owner
