Oh yeah absolutely he has paid the development application, but he needs to complete the permit process of payment and document pickup.

Just to verify it's ok for this customer to move forward and apply for the perk test?

We don't require them to have a zoning permit to go to county for requests.
They are approved at this time for their zoning/development permit but they have NOT paid yet.

So is this paper not what he needs? He said he was having a hard time because no one really knew what he was referring to.

We have them submit for a development/zoning application as well as construction application.
Once they have both been reviewed and approved, we email an invoice and payment options.
When the permits are paid, we print and issue the permits and the permit packet will be ready for pickup and they can take it anywhere it is needed including the job site.

I am working on getting invoices emailed out as I have been out of the office filling in for the Police Dept.

Good morning! We have a builder that needs to apply for a septic permit, but we require them to get a zoning permit first from you all. I just want to make sure this is what he's supposed to have. I guess there was some confusion when he went over there.
