Good morning, Rasheeda. I hope you are doing good today. If you are only having up to 8 children in your home, then you will only get a residential land use permit from me for this. I have attached it for your review. I have also attached the guidelines for the daycare. I will need the ages, days and times of the in home child care. I will also need a notarized statement from the land owner that states you can have this in the home. I had you fill out the other info, since I thought you were wanting to have 12 children.

Sincerely,

Donna Johnson
