To whom it may concern,
Better luck next time.

It's a damn shame that you are a chicken shit and you continue to bother Harnett County Employees/Officials and you won't even put your name on the complaints.

I guess I understand your concern there though, especially since you are not even smart enough to place your complaint with the correct dept. If you would have gave them your contact info they could have updated you with the following:

Case Opened, Case Closed
- Invalid Complaint

Also just a little FYI, this would be the second time that an Anonymous person has placed an invalid complaint. The Sheriffs Dept was made aware of this the last time someone placed a similar BOGUS Anonymous call. They informed me then, that this would be tracked and that after 3 instances, they will go pull the records and find out who the lucky winner is for wasting County resources repeatedly. Since it seems like you may have some sort of a learning disability, that means that you've used up 2 of the 3 chances at the prize.

Just know that I wish you the best of luck and I'll continue to support you in your useless efforts.
